DETAILED ACTION

Terminal Disclaimer

1. The terminal disclaimer filed on 05 May 2005 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of US 6,802,215 (application no. 10/605,627) has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Allowable Subject Matter

- 2. Claims 1-24 are allowed over the Prior Art of record.
- 3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: As to claims land 19, the primary reasons for allowance of the claims is the inclusion of the elements and method steps of a measurement tool having a cavity wherein a strain gage is mounted to a mounting surface, the strain gage being positioned or located in a region of approximately zero axial strain due to downhole operations/conditions and measurements made. The closest reasonable Prior Art reference is US 4,359,898 to Tanguy et al. (see Figs. 3 and 4 below) which teaches a weight-on-bit assembly the placement of strain gages (62-65) at locations on the body (40) where they will indicate the amplified stress (thus related strain) without responding to thermal strain, in particular, mounting the strain gages at or near the radius where the thermal stress is zero, which is near the center of a wall-section thickness in a tubular body, thus unaffected by temperature gradients (Tanguy et al.: col. 2, lines 20-26 and col. 5, lines 27-31).
